Panel Session Scheduled for Draft-Age Men

The second in a series of panel sessions to counsel and inform draft-age young men and their parents is being held this evening at 7:30 p.m., Mary Star of the Sea auditorium in San Pedro, it was announced yesterday by the Citizens' Career Counseling committee. The committee is composed of educators, draft board officials and men and women of all branches of the Armed Forces.

Elias Kresley, selective service district coordinator for the Los Angeles area, will explain the service laws as they apply to those of 18 and over, and a member of each military branch will speak briefly on what his service has to offer. Help in planning future educations and careers of those present will also be stressed.

A question and answer period will follow the talks, as will a counseling period to give the parents and young people an opportunity to speak personally with committee members.

The first session of the committee, held last September, was attended by over 75 interested persons.
